No suggestions, love this school and the staff! Communication has been amazing this year! Facebook, phone calls, remind messages and flyers!!! Above and beyond! If someone says they haven't been communicated with, they're lying and probably confused!

The staff need to learn to respect my child more when around me.

I think this school is amazing

I think the school is fantastic.

Communication on all levels which has sucked this year.

Sería muy bueno talleres para padres de familia de aprendizaje de inglés

I'd like there to be more evening events ie:6pm

Receive the curriculum of the school year so I can be aware of the topics discussed during class in order to review at home and help my child.

Very happy with the staff and safe surroundings

Open up the school a little more. Have more events for parents to participate. Sports days, daddy daughter dances, bake sale & more

Everything is I like the way you guys keep my kids update always give them something to do

More tutoring to kids who are struggling

N/A everything has been great this year! Over communication has been extremely helpful! I'd rather get the same announcement 3 times then not at all. It drives me crazy to hear parents complain about the school "not communicating". Y'all communicate, they choose not to listen, hear it see. Love this place!

You guys doing great already

No love it here

The teachers need to treat each child fairly and not tell them they are annoying and to leave them alone!

N/A

No it's great

Have the ability to test for ADHD or at least, a system set up to refer the family to the proper channels.

Nothing is done about bullying. We've had great experiences over the past 8 years with all my children but this year has been the worst. My child has been hurt twice this school year by other children and nothing came out of it. My child now has my permission to defend themselves by any means necessary if someone else puts their hands on them.
